

blog

A square is shown with its two diagonals drawn, intersecting at the center. This division creates four congruent right-angled triangles. The top triangle and the bottom triangle are shaded in a light gray color, while the left and right triangles are white.

textotexto
textotexto

